Students who do not pay a summer Hart House incidental fee can purchase a 2016 summer fitness membership for $84.27^{+HST} for summertime access to the Hart House Fitness Centre. If you are an undergraduate student enrolled in a summer course, it is likely that you have paid this incidental fee as part of your enrolment costs. Undergraduates not enrolled in summer classes and almost all graduate students have not paid this fee (confirm with your Registrar or on ROSI).

For more information and to purchase a summer fitness membership, please visit the Information Hub on the main floor of Hart House.

MEMBERSHIP POLICIES

Hart House has the authority to revoke or suspend membership rights and privileges when a member exhibits offending behaviour. Offending behaviour includes, but is not limited to: disorderly conduct, disruptive behaviour, persistent disregard of Hart House rules and regulations and default in payment of membership fees. Rule violations, following written incident reports, are dealt with under the procedures approved by the Hart House Board of Stewards.

GUEST PRIVILEGES

Hart House members may sponsor a guest who would like to make use of the Fitness Centre. A Guest Pass is currently $15.30^{+HST} and may be purchased by presenting a current U of T student card or Hart House Fitness membership card at the Information Hub (main level).
